MY K40 JOURNEY

Krihsna Routhu - Head, TechAgile

A couple of years ago, a fellow Rotarian, who is our CEO Chandra, introduced me to a gentleman Mr. Premkumar Gokuladasan, and mentioned that he is serving the community to improve literacy among school kids.

There was always a burning desire in me to find avenues where I can interact with school children, as I have done so, time and again.

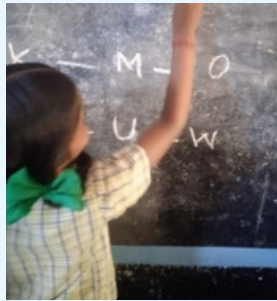

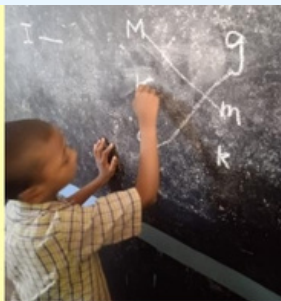

I discovered that Prem was the founder of BumbleB Trust, who had given up his profession as an IT engineer after 14 years of exposure, all over the world. He had a vision to dedicate his efforts to work with the city and rural children and uplift their academic ability. The trust has over 500 volunteers worldwide that helped in putting together lessons based on the Tamil Nadu government's school curriculum. The challenge was, how to support the kids on and off school with their subjects of study. Being an engineer, he worked on building an Android App called Kalvi40, which I called the K40 App. This App was built in such a way, that it hosts very light contents, which are easily accessed in remote forest areas, where schools exist with minimal mobile network coverage. Besides this, over time, with the support of benevolent individuals, the Trust was able to purchase LED television sets with casting capability to play the content at schools.

One of the statements in the UN charter speaks about holistic development of children through education. Prem, focused on the 3rd to 8th standard kids, whom he found needed the most handholding to cross the winning line.

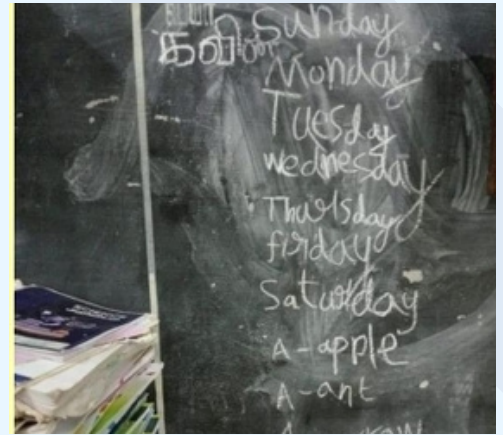

K40App has all content in Tamil as per the TN government curriculum, apart from content on general topics for children to learn and develop communication skills.

My passion to teach English found this as an opportunity. I have developed some content on basics of English, have spent hours on improving the audio and video quality of those created earlier by several volunteers and go out on field visits to small town and village schools, whenever time permits and reaching out to children.

The experience is awesome, when children surround you, mimic what you say and imbibe anything that you present to them. I am fondly called "Kicha Mama". This journey this far has been soul satisfying. Come, travel with me and experience the joy of knowledge sharing, a wealth that we possess, besides the money that some have. Time is money, and gifting your time to volunteer, to improve literacy, is the best gift you can offer to the children of our land.

Several corporates have come forward with their CSR funds to support BumbleB Trust. Chandra serves on the Board of BumbleB Trust in an advisory capacity. My journey can best be told with some of the pictures that I have presented here. As an Infocarer, I am doing a little bit. Be an Infocarer and care for your bretheren.

God Bless you all.
